

LINDY WILIAMS
CHIEF CREATIVE OFFICER

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Drawing on 25 years of corporate experience, Lindy offers a front-line perspective to discussions of needs analysis and potential solutions to organizational challenges. Her extensive background in training, human resource development and career development enables her to partner with clients and internal subject matter experts in leveraging critical internal support processes while building innovative approaches to manage today's issues while preparing for tomorrow's opportunities.

As Chief Creative Officer with Talent Dimensions, Lindy has worked with organizations ranging from banking & financial services to engineering firms and government agencies on the design and implementation of powerful new approaches to managing change, developing and retaining talent and creating inclusive, development-focused, resilient work environments.

Her experience includes coordination of project team initiatives and delivery of programs in Europe and Asia/Pacific locations as well as sites throughout the U.S. She has co-authored the book, Up is Not the Only Way, (Berrett-Koehler Publishers) 2017, and is a contributing author to HR in the 21st Century, (Wiley & Sons publishers).

EDUCATION/CREDENTIALS

Lindy holds a Bachelors Degree in Education from the University of Kentucky and has been actively involved in advisory boards of the Guilford Technical Community College Customer Technologies School, the Tech Prep Program and Guilford County Schools. She was director of Worldwide Career Development and a certified assessor for leader and manager selection for the American Express Company.

SPECIALTY AREAS

Lindy's diverse and broad range of expertise includes the following:

- Leadership, Professional and Career Development
- Coaching and Change Management
- Skill-building and Behavior Change Program Design
- Retention and Engagement Strategy
- Strategic Approaches to Engagement, Inclusion & Belonging
- Communication Strategy and Implementation
- Instructional Design for Business Results

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

Lindy is a member of Association of Talent Development (ATD) SHRM and National Career Development Association (NCDA).

800.577.6916

www.talent-dimensions.com