

MELANIE MILLER

SENIOR CONSULTANT

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Melanie is a sought-after consultant and speaker offering organizations speaking and training services with a focus on optimizing organizational effectiveness. Having conducted hundreds of workshops and speaking engagements, Melanie consistently receives extraordinary reviews and outstanding evaluations.

Previously, Melanie served corporate America in a sales and advertising capacity. She uses her “business lens” to provide her inclusion proficiency throughout North America and internationally. Additionally, she has developed numerous programs incorporating the multi-facets of leading, managing and leveraging organizational strength through leadership and inclusion. Her professionalism, customer focus, quality, respect and integrity are the values she uses to achieve stellar results.

Her engaging, high-energy, encouraging and interactive style has allowed for positive and effective results. By developing an integrated and strategic suite of solutions for diversity and inclusion, Melanie guides employees to achieve higher levels of engagement and organizations to exceed their business objectives. She has developed and led training and consulting services for all levels of national and international organizations of various size and industry sectors including education, government and non-profits.

One example of Melanie’s commitment to excellence is her multi-year relationship with IBM, including being charter faculty for the implementation of their groundbreaking Minority Women in Leadership Institute. A featured speaker at the Harvard University Women’s Leadership Institute, Melanie has also been quoted by several leading industry publications and has been heard on TV, radio and podcasts. Melanie has worked with many noteworthy companies including Coca-Cola, Verizon, McKesson, Cox, Sodexo, Anheuser-Busch, CIGNA, Siemens Medical, Microsoft, Capital One, UPS, Lockheed Martin, Amgen, PepsiCo, Novartis, NASA, Toyota and ALCOA.
